Mr. Peyer is a veteran of World War One when he served in the U. S. Navy as a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Iowa, assigned to the Atlantic Fleet patrolling the middle Atlantic in convoy duty.

He has served as treasurer of Kingston Post for several terms, and has always been active in Legion work.

In addition to electing officers several other important matters will be taken up at the annual meeting.

Germans' Murder Plot Kept Western Front Under Alert

Vichy chief of government, was brought back from Spain to France in a British warship and was on his way to prison.

Greller Is Captured

A dispatch from Kitzbuhel, Austria, said the 42nd Division of the U. S. Seventh Army had captured Arthur Greller, former Nazi overlord of Posnan in Poland, and S. L. Gen. Heinz Reinhardt, Nazi defender of Kueslein, in a mountain retreat northwest of Krimml.

Maj. Gen. Albert von Ihne, one-time secretary of Adolf Hitler's chancellery, was captured in the village of an Italian count near Rovereto, Italy. He had been in hiding there since April 27.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden disclosed in London yesterday that Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, Hitler's successor branded by Moscow as a war criminal, was "under investigation" and "according to newspaper reports," had been arrested. He told Commons he hoped swift justice would be meted out to Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering.

Most of the story about the Skorzeny plot was submitted to censorship last February and was held up by authorities until release last night.

Months before the Ardennes attack was scheduled, the Nazis set up a special school near Berlin and enrolled German soldiers who spoke English either with American or British accents. After weeks of training by the SS, the men were weeded down to a battalion headed by Skorzeny, who was appointed by personal orders of Hitler and Himmler.

Special small groups in American uniforms were sent deep into rear areas with missions to commit major sabotage and assassinate key American generals. Skorzeny himself was believed to have been elected to kill Eisenhower.

Capture and rigid questioning of some of these men disclosed the general plan to the Americans.

"Comics" Trick Germans

Paris, May 18 (AP)—Who is the Voice?

Who is Pruneface? Questions such as these broke up the plot of Lt. Col. Otto Skorzeny, captured German leader of a band of kidnapers and would-be assassins, to kill Gen. Eisenhower last winter.

Capture of the giant Skorzeny permitted the story to be disclosed.

Skorzeny led a special battalion of English-speaking desperados in American uniforms using American equipment who had been especially trained at a school near Berlin.

When Field Marshal von Rundstedt started his Ardennes offensive last December small bands from this battalion infiltrated the American lines, some to report on troop positions, others to attack the Americans with American tanks, and yet others to roam deep in the rear with the purpose of committing major sabotage and assassinating key American generals.

One such party of four penetrated as far as Liege.

Since ordinary passwords were useless under the conditions, the Americans resorted to a few unorthodox tricks of their own.

Roadblock guards would thrust their tommyguns into automobiles and pose questions which required an up-to-date knowledge of comic papers, swing music and other Americana.

Some of the Germans failed to pass the examination and were captured.

In this way it was learned that Skorzeny had planned for himself a mission to kill Eisenhower.

His plan was to go in a mixed party of Germans dressed in American and German uniforms.

It is assumed that Skorzeny learned his plan was not working and abandoned it.

The awards are to enable the artists to continue their work and to recognize their past and present achievements.

The recipients include: Feike Frikema, 33, Rural Route No. 4, Minneapolis, for literature; Jean Stafford, Sturges Highway, Westport, Conn., for literature; Gian-Carlo Menotti, 35, Mount Kisco, N. Y., for music; Andre Ruellan, 40, of Shady, Ulster County, N. Y., for painting.

Killed in Action

WILSON B. QUICK

P.F.C. Wilson B. Quick, 19, son of Mrs. Laura Quick of Allaben, was killed in action in Germany on April 15, according to a telegram Mrs. Quick received from the War Department.

Pvt. Quick attended Ellenville and Kerkhousen High Schools and was employed by Jack Krien at Phenicia prior to entering the service on September 6, 1944.

He received his basic training at Camp Croft, S. C., and Camp Meade, Md., leaving for overseas on January 22 of this year.

Mrs. Quick has also received a letter from Captain William C. Bessinger, commanding officer of the 55th Inf., of which Pvt. Quick was a member. The letter reads: "It is with my deepest regret that I express my sincere sympathy to you in your grief at the loss of your son and our comrade-in-arms, P.F.C. Wilson B. Quick who was killed in action in Germany on April 15, 1945."

"Wilson was a trustworthy and faithful soldier. He believed in the greatness and justice of our cause, and was willing to sacrifice his life for this cause to succeed. His passing has been profoundly felt and mourned by all of us."

"It will be a comfort to you to know that your son was a gallant soldier, liked and respected by all the officers and men in his company. We all understand as you do, that he laid down his life for something that is greater than all of us—our own American way of living."

"We, who fought at Wilson's side and lived with him like brothers, will never feel that his death has been in vain."

"Wilson was buried in an American cemetery in western Germany, and a Protestant chaplain officiated at the burial."

"I shall consider it a privilege to be of any possible service to you in any way whatsoever in the future."

Proclamation

Mayor William F. Edelmutt has today issued the following proclamation for "I Am An American Day."

America, the land of the free and the home of the brave. How often have we heard this phrase, but how little it was ever appreciated. Today, with one menace to our civilization conquered, we have liberated thousands of persons who have not known the full meaning of the land of the free. We must realize that we still have another enemy to conquer and forever still their desire to usurp the freedom of nations who love liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Sunday, May 20th, we celebrate 'I Am An American Day', a day set aside for us to reflect upon the things we are proud of which have been denied many people through out this world. Three hundred years ago, a band of settlers who found safety on American shores knelt and gave thanks to Almighty God for their deliverance. On this Sunday, we too, should, in our places of worship, give thanks to Almighty God for the opportunity to live in a land where we can enjoy freedoms unknown to many."

To you who are about to become American citizens, I say, learn something of the historical background of your country. When you gaze upon the flag, symbolic of our liberty, let the red of its stripes forever impress on your minds the blood which was shed by our gallant fighting men in our behalf, let the white remind you of this land's just and straightforward aims. Let the field of blue be a constant reminder of the vastness of this great land and our fathers and sons fought to preserve for you and me.

So, on this Sunday, May 20th, I do hereby proclaim this day as I Am An American Day and request all our citizens to properly observe it.

Given under my hand this 18th day of May 1945

WILLIAM F. EDELMUTT, Mayor.

Seniors Hold Their May Day Program; Brunette Reigns mates as their personification of spring.

"Mary Conway, I crown you Queen of the May."

Miss Conway spoke of the tradition of May Day and dedicated this year's festivities to the classmates who are already serving in the armed forces. She spoke as follows:

May Queen's Address

"Year after year, we, Americans, observe holidays commemorating historic events or national heroes. These days of celebration are part of our American tradition. Today, we are commemorating the most colorful, annual event in the history of this school. Today, following the tradition handed down by the Senior classes of other years, we are observing May Day."

"Though the beauty of this exercise fills our hearts with joy, yet we are conscious of a hidden note of sorrow. That sorrow is caused by the absence of some of our classmates: classmates in the service of our country. To them, in the colors who today are making American history, we dedicate this May Day."

"It is considered the highest honor of a senior to be chosen May Queen. This year, my classmates have bestowed that single honor upon me. In true humility, and with a sense of real joy, I offer to them, my sincere thanks. As May Queen, in behalf of the class and all the students of this high school, I offer our thanks to all who have worked so diligently to make our May Day of 1945 a success."

"As Shakespeare so ably said, 'The Play is the Thing, we offer now, for your enjoyment, our May Day exercises.'"

Immediately following the Queen's address girls from the Myron J. Michael School dressed in peasant blouses and skirts wound the May Pole which this year contained streamers of many colors.

This was followed by a marching drill given by the Leaders Club. These girls are among the outstanding students in gymnasium work and gave a demonstration of various marching formations. They were dressed in white "gym" suits with short white skirts.

The May Dances by girls from the physical education classes included a square set, Sicilian circle and schottische. The girls wore flower printed long peasant style dresses with white ruffled pantaloons. Unfortunately the music for the dancing was not loud enough for the majority of the audience to hear and detracted from the dance numbers.

The highlight of May Day again this year was the tumbling act of the boys from the Myron J. Michael School and the boxing and pole vaulting of the high school boys. The tumblers showed their expert training and agility in a number of somersaults, springs, twists and dives. The program included round-off with one-half twist; chest and dive vault through hands; back extension; over and under dive; head spring from throwers hands; back somersault single leg lift; back somersault, thrower's hand, thrower's foot; forward roll; thrower's shoulder, forward roll; and finally diving over several rows of mats.

The boxing was a new event in the May Day exercises. Two rings were marked out on the field and eight of the older boys tried their skill in two rounds. At the same time a pole vaulting exhibition was given.

Not to be surpassed by the display of acrobatic skill of the boys, Miss Blossom Barnett gave an acrobatic dance gracefully doing difficult back bends and turns.

A class of twirlers from the Myron J. Michael School and Kingston High School performed as did the band twirlers. The program closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

During the festivities Prime Minister Nock called for the captains of the sports teams to come forward and receive a rose from the May Queen. The teams were represented by the football, basketball, tennis, and baseball teams. William Savickie, track; Joseph Maggino, tennis; and Bernard Stahl for basketball in place of Donald Ross, who left for services in the navy immediately at the close of the basketball season. Mrs. Elma Baker, instructor in physical education at the high school, was also introduced as the one who had arranged the program.

Music was provided by the Kingston High School Band under the direction of Anthony J. Messina. The band opened the program with the playing of the "Greatest March" and then "The Star Spangled Banner" and the "Triumphal March" for the entrance of the May Queen and her court.

Other marches used were "Washington and Lee March," "American Patrol" and "U. S. Army March."

Kiwanis Observes 25th Anniversary of Radio

Joining with Kiwanis Clubs throughout the United States this week, Kingston Kiwanis on Thursday observed the 25th anniversary of radio, having as guests at the noonday luncheon Louis B. Sickette, manager of Station WKNY and Robert Brown, news broadcaster for the station who gave his regular 12:40 news broadcast from the dining hall in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Following the broadcast, Manager Sickette gave an interesting talk on the use of radio and the workings of the local station.

He noted that there are 900 radio stations in the United States, which 800 are "small time" stations.

WKNY was purchased two years ago by 25 business men of Scrubville, Ohio, who now own a group of four stations—Scrubville, Kingston, Atlantic City and Washington, Pa.

It was stated that the management of WKNY is left pretty much in the hands of the local group and so far as possible local people are employed. A number of persons formerly connected with the Kingston station have moved on to the "big time" stations.

Mr. Sickette said that technically the local station had made three advances. Today they are transmitting programs from outside, are equipped in record programs and have made other improvements.

Wesleyan Guild Has Mother's Day Supper

The Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist Church held its annual Mother's Day and Guest night supper in the church parlors Tuesday night. A delicious supper was served by Mrs. Hazel Cure of the high school and tables were decorated with spring flowers and candles. Favors of tiny wigs were made at each place.

"During the supper hour Mother's Day songs were sung in honor of the mothers present. Mrs. Herbert Killinder who was introduced by Miss Adiska Contro, president of the guild, welcomed the guests and announced the program. Devotions centered about Mothers were led by Mrs. Frank Palen. Miss Ethel Mauterstock then introduced the theme of the evening with a short discourse on the American Indian, playing three short selections illustrating their musical themes: "The Great Chief," "The Snake Dance," and "The Rain Song." Miss Jane Mauterstock played the Indian number from MacDowell's "Woodland Sketches" and Mrs. Henry Terpening sang two Indian songs, "Indian Love Call" and "Land of the Sky Blue Water." With a reading from Hiawatha and another piano selection, Miss Ethel Mauterstock concluded this part of the program.

The speaker of the evening was Principal Arthur Russell who gave a most interesting talk on the Red Man, showing many tools, ornaments and other utensils which he had collected. The evening ended with a social hour in which opportunity was given to examine the fine collection of Indian relics.

Business Girls Name Delegates To Annual Planning Conference

The Business and Professional Girls' Club met at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening with Miss Albert Davis, president, presiding. She announced that Miss Miriam Halloran and Miss Elma Smith had been selected as delegates to the planning conference this weekend at Albany. The planning conference prepares material for the regional Business and Professional Girls' Conference in the fall.

A letter from Miss Dorothy Rhodes of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. reminded the members that the kitchen planning contest would close next Wednesday when all models and all unused booklets are to be returned to the Y. W. C. A.

The club is planning to send two girls to camp this summer and members were asked to bring names for suggestions to the next meeting. The club committee will make the final selection. The "Y" camp needs the services of a nurse, swimming instructor and a music director for the four weeks camping period in July and asked the club members to send in names suggesting people who might be willing to serve in these capacities.

SEEMING INDIFFERENCE TO A GIFT

As a matter of fact, the following situation is to me less unusual than ought to be possible. A distressed giver writes: "Several months ago we gave what we thought was a lovely wedding present to two young friends. At the time they seemed very pleased with our gift, but as they had not then found a place to live, asked if they might leave it at our house. They have been in their own place for some time, have been since and each time I have reminded them that the gift was still here. They say 'Oh yes!' but always they leave without taking it. I would appreciate your telling me what to do. I am, to say the least, upset about their indifference."

"To this the only answer I can make is that they evidently forget. (A trait not at all unusual!) It is very likely that when they get home, they remember and exclaim, 'Again we forgot to bring our present home!' I do agree that it is rude and seemingly unappreciative of your gift. This last is, however, not necessarily true. One thing you in turn might do is to put it away. If months go by and it is not asked for, I suggest you give it to another bride. If the first one remembers and protests, it might teach her a valuable lesson."

Baby Shower Might Be Given By Relative

Dear Mrs. Post: My stepmother would like to give a baby shower for my daughter, and when I brought up the fact that it is not appropriate for members of the family to invite friends to a party to bring presents, she insisted that as she was not a blood relative, that would make it all right. I can hardly believe it but wish before I say any more that you would give me your opinion.

Answer: I think a baby shower is rather different from a bridal one, but more important than this is the question of whether your stepmother is intending to invite her own friends or merely yours. In the first case, the answer might be "yes"; in the second, decidedly "no."

Introducing a Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the proper way to introduce (a) my brother who is a doctor; (b) also, my own husband when he becomes a full-fledged doctor? I mean formally to strangers.

Answer: (a) "My brother"—to strangers add, "His name is Dr. Jones." (b) "My husband—he is a doctor." (In the first instance,

Investiture of Girl Scout Troop

Impressive Services at Rondout Presbyterian

Impressive investiture services for the newly organized Girl Scout Troop 22 of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, were held Thursday evening in the church, and were largely attended. Thirty-eight girls were invested by Mrs. Eugene MacConnell, Girl Scout organization chairman.

Music for the candlelight investiture service was played on the piano by Miss Ann Van Deusen, and the service was most inspiring as the Girl Scouts, each carrying a lighted candle was invested.

The service opened with the procession which was followed by the invocation, the pledge to the flag and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The newly organized troop was extended the welcome of the church by the pastor, the Rev. Robert E. Osman, while Mrs. Bernard Singer made the presentation of the troop flags.

This was followed by the troop song "The Golden Sun," the sounding of taps by the Girl Scouts, the Girl Scout prayer and the Benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Osman.

The troop was organized through the efforts of Mrs. Emanuel Manos, the leader, assisted by Mrs. Watson Goodrich, the assistant leader. The troop is sponsored by the Service Club of the church, and the members of the troop committee are Mrs. Robert E. Osman, chairman, and Mrs. Marvin Craft, Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, Mrs. Samuel H. Peyer, Mrs. Bernard Singer and Mrs. Eugene Pemberton.

This is the first Girl Scout troop to be organized by the Rondout Presbyterian Church. They meet every Thursday in the chapel of the church.

your brother's name is not the same as yours. In the second, you merely emphasize the fact that your husband is a doctor and not a mister.)

Who should be introduced to whom? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Introductions," in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, 19, N. Y., and enclose a 3-cent stamp, self-addressed envelope (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

EVERY PLY OF EVERY RIVERSIDE IS

12% STRONGER!

THAT'S WHY WE SAY...
MORE MILES-OF-SAFETY ON RIVERSIDES

Today... Riversides are 12% stronger than our super-safe, pre-war Riversides! Every ply is stronger because each individual cord is stronger to begin with; then chemically-strengthened to make it stay stronger longer! Next, the cords are immersed in a "bonding" solution which "welds" them together and finally imbedded between two layers of rubber! THE RESULT—A Riverside PLY... a ply of strength... strength that insures MORE MILES-OF-SAFETY on Riversides!

BLACK MARKET THRIVES

Neither risk of prosecution nor danger of getting diseased meat has kept motorists in South Africa cities from driving into the country to get black market beef and mutton, and "black" abattoirs and country butchers are doing a roaring trade, according to reports from Pretoria. Many of the customers buy large quantities — two or three sheep and big pieces of beef—and in some instances conditions of cleanliness leave much to be desired. Observers pointed out. Prices are purely arbitrary but there is no haggling. At one place a leg of mutton may cost $1.35; at another a half sheep may be had for $1.00.

Still Has Speed

Louisville, Ky., May 18 (AP)—Any doubt that John Marich's Free For All, advance Kentucky Derby choice, still has his 1944 speed was dispelled yesterday when the colt, unbeaten in five starts last season, breezed to a four-length victory on a heavy track at Churchill Downs. Under 122 pounds and a prohibitive choice at 1 to 10, Free For All took the Forest Retreat Purse in front of Quintero, timed in 1:14 3/5 for six furlongs of tough going. Another Derby eligible, Unconditional, ran last in the dash.

Alexis Is Winner

Baltimore, Md., May 18 (AP)—Four Derby hopefuls performed in Pimlico's Remnant of six furlongs yesterday with the Christiana Stable's Alexis emerging as an impressive winner. The stretch-running threat for three-year-old specials swallowed up faster beginners and scored by a half length in 1:12 2/5. Other Derby candidates in his wake were Brookfield Stable's Brookfield, which beat Pentagon Stable's The Dog by two lengths for the place, and Robert Stable's Bolander, fifth after showing early foot.

Some Maroons Who'll Meet Po'keepsie

When Kingston High School trackmen meet Poughkeepsie at the Kingston Municipal Stadium, Saturday at 2 p. m., these four sprinters hope to come through for the Maroon and White. They are William Blume, Robert Conlon, John Lawson and Ken Whispell, who has done the 100 in 10.3.

This trio, Frank Dolan, Tom McGraw and Bernie Stuhl, is set on coming through victoriously when it clashes with the Poughkeepsie milers. These boys have been clicking off good time in practices held in preparation for the meet. The visitors will have to produce a huskier boy than Walter Bruchholz, (right) if they want to win the shotput. He tossed the shot for better than 43 feet against Newburgh.

Governor Dewey Wants Saratoga Track Opened

Albany, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—Governor Dewey, who wants racing at Saratoga Springs this year, feels that "either all tracks outside of metropolitan areas throughout the United States should be closed or all should be opened."

O.D.T. Director J. Monroe Johnson said yesterday that if Dewey wants to open the Saratoga track that is up to him.

"But," Johnson added, "the track won't get any special transportation."

Dewey, through his executive assistant, James C. Hagerty, came back with the telegraphed comment:

"... I understand that race tracks not reached easily by existing transportation facilities in other states and in some instances more inaccessible than Saratoga are planning to open."

"The track at Saratoga Springs is a 15-minute walk from midtown. If tracks like Narragansett, Santa Anita and Rockingham are being permitted to operate throughout the country, it would be a grave injustice to turf followers of the state of New York and the residents of Saratoga Springs if federal authorities insist that the Saratoga tracks remain closed."

The crux of the situation, as the O.D.T. sees it, is that resumption of racing at Saratoga, not as accessible as some tracks, would require the use of extra transportation facilities, prohibited under present regulations.

Hagerty termed "an inexcusable misrepresentation" a report that Dewey had requested additional railroad cars for the Saratoga race track.

State Tax Commissioner Rollin Browne meanwhile reported that the 1945 war-shortened racing season, which opens at Jamaica Monday, is expected to boost New York's revenue from the sport since pari-mutuel betting was legalized in 1940 to close to the $100,000,000 mark.

Although the federal racing ban cut the current season about 25 per cent, the state will probably receive more than $20,000,000 during 1945.

Firpo Has Boxer

Buenos Aires, May 18 (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo, who fought Jack Dempsey two decades ago, is enthusiastic about his protegee, 226-pound Abel Cestac, whom the former Wild Bull of the Pampas said last night is about due in New York aboard the Argentine merchantman Rio Parana.

Firpo thinks the 26-year-old fighter, who stands six feet two, has all the physical requisites to blaze a trail in United States boxing, but says Cestac has yet to control his temper in the ring. Luis, now a millionaire rancher, sent Cestac to the States with a letter of introduction to Jack Dempsey and other old friends.

Racetrack Crowds Might Bet More If They Had Time

By FRED HAYDEN

New York, May 18 (AP)—Six world betting records set during New York's 1944 racing season may stand up this year with facilities for handling crowds no better and wagering time between events cut.

Transportation problems which existed before will remain also but it is not lack of customers which has prevented the realization of the sport's first four-million dollar day. Such a dream could easily have become a reality on more than one occasion last year had not many thousands of dollars been "shut out" simply because hundreds of fans could not jam into the sellers' windows in time to make a bet.

Until the Japs are beaten and new super-duper racetracks can be constructed, the present set-up will have to do. Jamaica and Aqueduct are far from adequate for handling the prosperous wartime crowds and even comparatively spacious Belmont Park was often jammed to the hilt last season.

A new rule on betting goes into effect beginning with New York's opening at Jamaica on Monday. Mutual windows will be closed at the announced post time for each race even if the post parade is not nearly completed, post time and time of day will be prominently displayed. Last season, sellers shut shop after a start had been effected.

The post-time close is not conducive to heavier betting, but heads of metropolitan racing won't mind. Most of them already have expressed the feeling that the game was getting "too big" anyway.

The new world marks created last year were:

Biggest handle: $3,618,846, October 7, Belmont.
Biggest handle, 7-race card: $3,541,677, November 4, Empire-at-Jamaica.

Biggest daily double pool: $189,116, November 4, Empire-at-Jamaica.

Average handle, meeting: $2,406,706, Belmont, spring, 24 days.

Average handle, meeting, 7-race cards: $2,324,770, Empire-at-Jamaica, fall, 12 days.

Biggest jumping race handle: $317,201, Belmont, Memorial Day, May 30.

Bedell Holsteins Have Outstanding Production Record

The herd of registered Holsteins owned by Alfred Bedell and Son of Walkill, has recently completed an outstanding record with the American Dairy Cattle Club. For the calendar year 1944 the herd finished twelfth in the nation under the A.D.C.C. testing procedure for butterfat and eighth for production of milk. All the herds with higher averages were smaller herds.

The average for 28 cows was 12,950 pounds of milk, 475 pounds of fat at 3.67 per cent test, 303 day mature equivalent. The high cow for the herd was Applidge-Esther Star No. 2044507 with 16,586 milk, 542 fat and 3.57 per cent test.

Most of the cows in the herd are daughters of the two former Herd Sires Deyo Mina Homestead Star and Emperor Hazelwood Melissa, registered Holsteins. Both are desirable proven sires, increasing fat and test. The present herd sire is Pebble Beach, Ambassador, double grandson of the breed's high index sire Montvic Chieftain 7th whose index is 15,170 pounds milk and 736 pounds fat 4.85 per cent. This herd is based upon sound breeding principles and careful selection of herd sires. To emphasize this proof, continuous records for the past 14 years in D. H. I. A. have been kept in cooperation with Cornell University and the Farm Bureau.

Beetles Run Roofs

Newly built houses in South Africa are targets for a plague of beetles which has become a country-wide menace. Johannesburg reports the grubs of small beetles are attacking rafters, roofs, floors and doors and many roofs have had to be replaced.

BOOKIE LICENSES ISSUE
Whether or not to license bookmakers is puzzling New Zealanders and a Royal Commission probably will be created to study the whole subject of that country's gambling laws, Wellington reports say. The question arose when petitions signed by 6,320 persons reached the Government, asking review of a 12-months jail sentence given a Christchurch bookmaker, R. M. Algie (Opposition—Remeura) also pointed out in the House of Representatives that while bookmaking now is held to be a criminal action, an act to be branded a crime should be condemned by the current feeling of the community. Betting is not today condemned by community opinion, he said. The Prime Minister replied that there are sections of the people strongly opposed to gambling. The Government is giving weighty thought to the matter.

Carrier's Crew Did Heroic Operation In Saving Vessel

her engines started, and a day later was churning toward a friendly port at 21 knots under her own power, the tow cast off.

Engines and hull were almost intact.

Would Not Yield His Ship

Capt. L. E. Gehres, who would not give up his ship, and his small remaining crew brought the fires under control. Destroyers and cruisers scoured the sea for 10 miles, picked up the men who had been blown, driven or who leaped overboard. It was in the American tradition of making every possible effort to save human lives, no matter what the risk. Superb seamanship was one of the major factors in making the dual rescue of ship and men possible.

(Most of the casualties were sustained in the first few minutes after the bomb struck, as gasoline and explosives on the flight and hangar decks went up in blinding sheets of flame that seared many men to a crisp in a flash. The lone Jap bomber dropped down out of the overcast to place a bomb on the busy flight just before 7:10 a. m., as planes were taking off on a mission.)

(For nearly five hours the Franklin lay dead as the crew struggled to get the flames under control, and save the ship. Meanwhile other ships removed all but a skeleton crew. The Santa Fe took aboard 826 persons, including 90 wounded. A destroyer, the Hini, removed or picked up 417. The Marshall saved 212, and several other ships saved lesser numbers. The Franklin's pilots who were in the air landed safely on other ships.)

Shortly after noon the tow of the Franklin began. Just then a Japanese plane, first to slip through the protective cover of patrol planes helping the stricken Franklin, dived toward the carrier and released its bomb. The bomb missed, sending up a great keyser off the carrier's stern.

Second Plane Appears

A second Jap plane appeared two hours later, but did not attempt a bomb run. Both were reported shot down by patrol planes. (The Jap plane that bombed the Franklin was shot down a few moments later by the Franklin's own air group commander, Commander E. B. Parker, who was in the air 18 minutes before the bombing and was circling waiting for his command to come up. His kill was confirmed as the Jap plane plummeted straight down into the sea from 2,500 feet.)

The rescue of the crippled ship and the saving of a majority of the crew's lives provided one of the most amazing episodes in American naval history. The ship that wouldn't be sunk couldn't be sunk. The fight to save the mighty carrier had begun immediately, although commanding officers on other ships believed it impossible. Damage and fire control parties labored indomitably amidships, playing fire hoses on the flames while shrapnel burst around them. Capt. Gehres, standing on the bridge at the time, was knocked down by the blast and almost suffocated by smoke, but was uninjured. "I won't abandon this ship," he told his commanding officers. Each succeeding explosion appeared to make loss of the ship inevitable. The captain, alone, could make the decision and his faith held fast.

Capt. Harold C. Fitz, commanding the Santa Fe, a light cruiser, was ordered to assume command of the rescue operations within an hour after the bombing. Four destroyers were detailed to assist. The Santa Fe took some lines and came alongside once, its fire hoses playing on the flaming carrier deck, then cast off when there was doubt whether the carriers' magazines had been flooded. The carrier rocked with a mighty explosion at the stern about 10 o'clock, three hours after the bombing. Circling quickly, the cruiser charged in across the bow, turned starboard, and stopped, almost rubbing the carrier's decks. The wholesale evacuation began, as the ships pounded together in the swell.

Gasoline Endangers All

A broken 3-or-4-inch gasoline line in the after part of the hangar deck spilled flaming, 100-octane fuel for several hours, turning that part into a cauldron of fire. Burning gasoline spilled over the side of the carrier and blazed on the seaboard. Fire hoses from the cruiser would not reach this area.

"I was watching and saw three men go into that fire and smoke and shut that line off," L. E. Blair, chief carpenter on the cruiser, Williamsburg, Kas., related. "It was about three hours after the ship was hit. It wasn't until then that they were able to begin to bring the fire under control. I don't know who they were, but if those boys are alive, they sure deserve a medal."

The Franklin was listing so steeply to starboard toward the cruiser that it was difficult to keep one footing on the decks. Once the wounded were across, men began scrambling to get aboard the cruiser.

About 12:30 p. m. the cruiser cast off, ending a ticklish time when both were vulnerable to Japanese air attacks. The still-smoking Franklin took a line from another cruiser and was placed in tow, limping along south. The impossible was happening. The unsinkable Franklin was heading toward safety almost from the shores of Japan.

Then he recruited a damage control party and led it into one of the main ammunition magazines to wet down and prevent its exploding.

Baru Town, Maj. James L. Bradley's 96th (Statute of Liberty) Division, was engaged in bloody fighting for Love Hill, only 1,400 yards due east of Shuri. These troops also destroyed some enemy strong points.

Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland reported that one company of Bradley's division killed 46 Japanese of a counter-attacking 200 who exposed themselves to rifle fire as they reached the crest of a ridge. The Nipponese were led by an officer who wore white gloves and polished boots. The officer was killed.

Elements of the First Marine Division's Seventh Regiment discovered other booted, white-gloved officers appeared to be celebrating, probably because they earlier had crippled two U. S. tanks and shredded two Leatherneck platoons.

Marine Capt. Harry Wheeler, former Manhattan College football star and Washington, D. C. florist, looked at the 200 torn bodies, and said:

"It's a pleasantly nauseating sight. What a place for a wholesale florist."

All ground troops were supported by aerial bombing and strafing and by continued heavy bombardment by the navy's warships. Aerial action was highlighted by army Mustang fighters which flew a 1,500 mile round trip from Iwo Jima to attack concentrations of Japanese aircraft on Atsugi airfield, only 17 miles southwest of Tokyo. They destroyed seven and probably destroyed two grounded planes and damaged 33.

Despite its proximity to the enemy capital, the Mustangs apparently met no fighter opposition. One American plane, however, was lost to intense antiaircraft fire.

Oil Storage Is Blasted

Guam, May 18 (AP)—Superfortresses knocked out Japan's greatest oil storage area, including both the army's and navy's biggest concentrations of fuel storage, in just one full scale raid.

Reconnaissance photographs today disclosed that 65 to 95 per cent devastation was wrought by more than 400 B-29s in their May 10 raid on southeastern Honshu. It was the first of the war directed solely at destroying the major source of the empire's vital supply of gasoline and oil for her warcraft and shipping.

Twelve storage tanks were destroyed and 85 per cent of the target area devastated by B-29s which attacked Tokiyama naval fuel station. The adjoining Tokiyama coal yards and synthetic fuel factory—the army's greatest fueling center—were so badly damaged the 21st Bomber Command spokesman termed them "inoperative." Tokiyama is 48 miles southwest of Kure.

Sixty of 65 storage tanks at the Oshima naval oil storage center, the fleet's largest, were put out of operation. Oshima station is on an island of that name in Tsushima Strait outside the Shimoda entrance to the Inland Sea.

Osaka oil refinery, one of the empire's largest, was forced to cease operations. The B-29s covered the target area so effectively that only two small pockets in extreme corners of the plant area remained undamaged. Osaka is on the western shore of the Inland Sea, 27 miles northeast of Tokuyama.

Not one of the B-29s was lost in those raids. Crewmen reported the latest Superfort attack on Nagoya yesterday, left the 16-square mile target area a huge, flaming smoke-pool. More than 500 B-29s dropping 3,500 tons of fire bombs. Reconnaissance photographs of that attack are not yet available.

The Nipponese are at least at regimental strength. They are well supplied with artillery, mortars and small arms. The Yanks have beaten off one enemy attempt to break out, killing 14 Japanese.

In the central sector of Mindanao, southern island of the Philippines, Maj. Gen. Rapp Brush's 40th Division and Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin's 31st Division, have another sizeable enemy force squeezed between them along the Sayre highway.

Today's communiqué reported advances which narrowed the gap between the 40th and 31st from 55 to 45 miles. The 40th is driving south from the Del Monte Air Base center. The 31st has pushed north to the edge of the air base of Valencia after putting the captured airstrip at Maramag into operation for transport planes.

A third trap, sprung on an enemy force of undisclosed size, was compressed by Maj. Gen. R. B. Woodruff's 24th Division near captured Davao on Mindanao. The enemy is caught between the Davao and Talomo rivers.

The biggest operation announced today for the air force was an 185-ton Liberator bombing of Shichiku, major Japanese base on northwestern Formosa.
